

The Ambassador's Corner

Ambassador Sulunteh hosts ECOWAS Ambassadors Annual Picnic

Activities of the Ambassador

- ECOWAS Ambassadors Picnic
- Ambassador Attends Ebola Survivors Event
- Ambassador Sulunteh Celebrates his birthday AND MORE...

Annual ECOWAS Ambassadors Picnic is a hit

Under light rain, the Embassy of the Republic of Liberia hosted the Annual ECOWAS Ambassadors Picnic. The event is held each year and hosted by one of the ECOWAS Ambassadors. This year, Ambassador Sulunteh greeted his guests after flying into Washington D.C. on the same day as the picnic.

The Annual Picnic brings together family members of Embassies' staff for a day of fun and relaxation and culture. The guests enjoyed dancing, delicious food, drinks, games and face-painting.

A good time was had by all, including the spouses of the Ambassadors, who danced with their husbands in a dancing competition. The Sierra Leonian Ambassador and his wife was the people's choice for Best dancers.

Ambassador Sulunteh Attends Change Agent Network Event to Honor Survivors and Victims of Ebola

On September 10th, Ambassador Sulunteh traveled to Dallas, TX to attend the Honoring Ceremony for survivors and victims of the Ebola Virus Disease (EVD) held by the Change Agent Network (CAN, Inc.). The Ambassador was the keynote speaker.

-
"Last year this time, I was referred to as the Ebola Ambassador."

-Ambassador Sulunteh

Ambassador Sulunteh with Eric Wowoh, Founder of Change Agent Network (Center)

Children of ECOWAS Embassy staff having Fun at the picnic

Ambassador Sulunteh engaging guests at ECOWAS Ambassador's Picni

ECOWAS Ambassadors and their spouses

Embassy of Liberia staffers hanging out at the picnic

Ambassador Sulunteh Accompanies President Sirleaf to Seattle Washington at the end of the UN General Assembly

Paul G. Allen with President Ellen Johnson Sirleaf

(L-R) Paul Allen, President Sirleaf and Ambassador Sulunteh in Seattle, WA

Ambassador Sulunteh meets with the Leadership of The Liberian Association of Washington

Liberian Embassy
5201 16th Street NW
Washington, D.C.

Phone:
(202) 723-0437
Fax:
(202) 723-0436

Ambassador Sulunteh Takes time out during his Busy Day to Celebrate his Birthday

Liberian Ambassador, Jeremiah C. Sulunteh, joined the staff, after being surprised for his birthday, for some fufu and soup. The Ambassador thanked the staff and asked that similar celebrations are extended to each staff members.

Ambassador Sulunteh at his lunch birthday celebration at the

Representing the Ambassador

E-Mail:

vickie.ward@liberianembassy.org

Web Site:

www.liberianembassyus.org

Ambassador Sulunteh's Special Assistant attended the Hubert Humphrey Fellows Reception at the US State Department where 160 countries were represented, including Wadi Williams, representing Liberia.

The Deputy Chief of Mission and other Embassy staffers attended an honoring Reception of African-American leaders At the Ghanaian Embassy in September

President Ellen Johnson Sirleaf was the keynote speaker at a Reception hosted by the Marylanders for Progress in Washington, D.C. To the Left are Embassy staffers in attendance

Minister Counselor for Economic Affairs, Famatta Manu (2nd from L) and Deputy Chief of Mission, Jeff Gongoer Dowana, Sr., meet with members of the AsiaLink team, seeking to do assist in development projects in Liberia

MORE PHOTOS

Ambassador Sulunteh at the Change Network Agent Fundraiser in Dallas, TX

Event held at the Fairmont Hotel in Washington D.C. by the Tubman University and Marylanders for Progress

(L-R) Christmas Party at the Embassy; Vice President Joseph N. Boakai makes State visit to Washington D.C to witness signing of the Millennium Challenge Compact grant and Ambassador Sulunteh meets President of Shepherd University, where he

*Liberian Embassy -
5201 16th Street NW
Washington, D.C.
20011*

Friend's Name
Street Address
City, State Zip Code